Day 2 : Full-day Icefield Parkway Tour; Ice Explorer Ride and Glacier Skywalk at Columbia Icefield

After breakfast, proceed on a full-day adventure through glaciers and ice fields. Settle into the comfort of your coach to drive to Banff. Turn back time to the Ice Age on your full-day guided Icefield Parkway Tour, which is one of the best things to do in Canada. As you travel along the Icefields Parkway, rated among the world's most scenic highways, Kick off the tour with a photo stop at Lake Louise, continue along the Icefield Parkway towards the glacier-fed Peyto Lake (visit when access permits), and pause to capture breathtaking photos at Bow Lake. The drive will take you through the heart of Banff and Jasper National Parks on to the Columbia Icefield, the largest ice field and one of the most unique attractions in the Canadian Rockies. Once here, hop on to the massive Ice Explorers (admission included) for an hourlong glacier ride across shimmering ice, with spectacular views of snow-covered alpine mountains. The Glacier Skywalk (included in tour) is a surreal experience that features wildlife, waterfalls, and fossils. Stride along the cliff-edge walkway to the glass-floored lookout, hanging 918 ft (280 m) above the Sunwapta Valley, and capture awe-inspiring views of the valleys, towering peaks, and large cornices and faraway ice fields. After an action-packed day of exploration, get on your coach and travel to Canmore, a picturesque mountain resort town. Check-in to your comfortable hotel. Overnight in Canmore. (Breakfast)

Day 4: Transfer to Kelowna, via Revelstoke, Three Valley Gap & Canada's Last Spike.

Set out on a scintillating drive through Glacier National Park as you transfer from Golden to Kelowna, a city set amid forests, lakes, beaches, orchards, and mountains. Leave Golden and turn on to the Trans-Canadian Highway that cuts through some of the most picturesque sites in Canada. Stop at Revelstoke, a worldclass mountain town packed with history, culture, outdoor attractions and warm people. See time stand still with a photo stop at Three Valley Gap Ghost Town, home to old town buildings filled with artifacts, old trains and cars. Visit Canada's Last Spike, which is the final railway spike driven into the Canadian Pacific Railway track in 1885 to mark the completion of the transcontinental railway line after five years of construction. Drive to the town of Sicamous, nestled on the banks of the massive Shuswap Lake. Later race along Highway 97A that overlooks the beautiful Mara Lake and hit the town of Vernon, a year-round travel destination, before you finally arrive at Kelowna, which sits pretty on the Okanagan Lake. On arrival, checkin to your hotel and make yourself comfortable or plan your evening at leisure in Kelowna. Choose to explore the downtown area, a cultural district that is home to over a dozen vineyards, a waterfront City Park and lots more. Overnight in Kelowna. (Breakfast)
